REQUIRED MATERIALS

Listed below are the things that you will need to bring with you to class every day. Please be sure that you have these things no later than the second week of classes.

Personal headphones: These should be brought to class daily to allow for independent practice on the electronic keyboards (standard 3.5 mm headphone jack or an adaptor of that size)

2 sharpened pencils Pencils should be used on all piano assignments unless otherwise specified

ROOM POLICIES

Tardies:

Class begins at the late bell. You are expected to be on time to every class. Being on time means being seated, having all your materials (headphones/pencils) ready at the beginning of class. If you are tardy, you must have a pass from either the teacher who detained you or the attendance office. If you are late, you must sign the “Tardy Sheet.” Being tardy without an acceptable pass automatically results in a lunch detention.

Restroom Passes

Instructional time is very valuable! When you are not in class, you are missing crucial rehearsal moments that cannot be duplicated. Therefore, time out of the classroom should be kept to a minimum. However, emergencies do happen. For this reason, when you have to go grab the bathroom pass from the stand and go. Please be responsible with your bathroom privilege. Students who are out of class excessively for bathroom issues will have points taken off of their daily grade. Also, remember that you are responsible for any work or music missed while out of the room.

Piano Room Equipment

Students should not use any equipment in the piano room without the permission of Ms. Thomas. This includes pianos, computers, TV’s, Ms. Thomas’ personal belongings, etc. Failure to get permission before touching equipment will result in a lunch detention.

Gum, Candy, Food, & Non-Water Beverages

All gum, candy, and non-water beverages are to be placed in the trash can immediately upon entering the piano room. Water bottles are permitted.

Cell Phones, iPods, & Other Electronic Devices

Personal electronic devices are great learning tools and can be quite helpful in learning music. But they can also be distracting, thus devices are not permitted without permission from Ms. Thomas. These items will be confiscated for the remainder of the school day if they are being used without permission. If a parent needs to reach you or you them, please have them contact the school’s front office.

Storage Room, Practice Room & Office

These rooms are not to be used without permission.

PROCEDURES

When you enter the class...

Go immediately to your assigned seat with your headphones and a pencil

If you are tardy...

Bring your pass to Ms. Thomas

If you do not have a pass sign the Tardy Sheet

Go to your assigned seat or directly to your piano if that transition has already occurred

If you are absent...

Ask Ms. Thomas for the assignment that you missed. Complete it at home and bring it in when you return to school or, at the latest, by the second day that you return to school.

If you know ahead of time that you will be absent, ask a friend to record your part of the music that we are covering.

Being absent is not an excuse to fall behind

At the end of class

Always remember to shut down your piano properly and leave your area neat. When the bell rings, stay seated until you have been dismissed by Ms. Thomas. Getting up without being dismissed will result in lunch detention.

Piano is a graded class. This grade will be based on much more than simply showing up and being a warm body in the room. There will be tests (written tests and singing tests), quizzes, projects, and homework. This is how your piano grade will be broken down:

Major Summative 50%

Weekly Performances

Minor Summative 40%

Theory Packets

Participation 10%

Classwork & Class Preparedness

Signed handbook by due date

I affirm that I have read over the piano handbook. I understand all of its expectations, rules and policies.

I affirm that I and my child have signed up for Remind. I understand that Ms. Thomas will not be sending home paper reminders unless I request them. I understand that if ever I have questions about piano, I can always reach out to Ms. Thomas via email, text or in person at Martin from 7:00 – 8:15 or 2:15 – 2:45.
